EARTHQUAKES SHAKE SINKIANG -- Sinkiang Jih-pao, 10 Mar 49

A series of earthquakes rocked Yen-ch'i, Lun-t'ai, and Ho-f (either Ho-shih or Ho-ching, both are in the area) during late February. The second tremors experienced by Yen-ch'i were severe, lasting 4-5 minutes and causing the collapse of one house and cracks in many other poorly constructed buildings. There were no casualties.

Most of the quakes at Lun-t'ai occurred about 2200 hours. The walls of many houses caved in. One woman was crushed to death and three men were injured.

According to a survey, the first vibrations at Ho-f appeared to have come from the northwest and, after a few minutes, moved southeastward. About 2 hours later, slight tremors recurred. There were no casualties or damages.
